

Overview:

Transform the leaders' new understanding of a performance dialogue and enable them to make a difference to the individual & the organization through the conversation.

Productivity is directly related to the effectiveness of communication that happens in the workplace. Transactional Analysis was founded by Eric Berne and has wide applications in organizational and personal development, encompassing communications, management, personality, relationships and behavior. It helps to enrich your dealings with people and your understanding of yourself.

As a manager it is essential to improve employee performance on a continuous basis and the best way to do this is through coaching and mentoring. This training equips the manager with the necessary skills to be an effective coach and mentor.
